Introduction

The fundamental purpose of the IPC Athlete Classification Code (the Code) is to uphold confidence in Classification and advance participation by a wide range of Athletes. To achieve this purpose, the Code details policies and procedures common across all sports and sets principles to be applied by all Para sports.

The Code is complemented by International Standards that provide technical and operational standards for specific aspects of Classification to be carried out by all Signatories in a manner which Athletes and other Paralympic stakeholders understand and have confidence in.

Compliance with these International Standards is mandatory. This International Standard for Classifier Personnel and Training must be read in conjunction with the Code and the other International Standards.

Purpose

The purpose of the International Standard for Classifier Personnel and Training is to outline the procedures for Classifier recruitment, training, certification and Re-certification.

Definitions

This International Standard uses the defined terms in the Code and other International Standards. Further defined terms specific to this International Standard are as follows:

Classifier Certification: the processes by which an International Sport Federation must assess that a Classifier has met the specific Classifier Competencies required to obtain and maintain certification or licensure.

Classifier Competencies: the qualifications and abilities that the International Sport Federation deems necessary for a Classifier to be competent to conduct Athlete Evaluation for sport(s) governed by that International Sport Federation.

Continuing Education: the delivery of higher knowledge and practical skills specified by an International Sport Federation to preserve and/or advance knowledge and skills as a Classifier in the sport(s) under its governance.

Entry Criteria: standards set by an International Sport Federation relating to the expertise or experience levels of persons who wish to be Classifiers. This may, for example, include former Athletes or coaches, sports scientists, physical educators and medical professionals, all of whom have the qualifications and abilities relevant to conduct all, or specific parts of, Athlete Evaluation.

Entry-level Education: the basic knowledge and practical skills specified by an International Sport Federation to begin as a Classifier in the sport(s) under its governance.

Maintaining Certification: the advanced training, education and practice necessary for continued competency as a Classifier.

Re-certification: the process by which an International Sport Federation must assess that a Classifier has maintained specific Classifier Competencies.
